

Orange Readers' Day

Saturday 09 May

1pm – 5pm

Adrian Boulton Hall, BCU Conservatoire,
Paradise Place, Birmingham

Come and sample the delights of the third Orange Readers' Day which is brought to Birmingham by Orange, The Reading Agency, West Midlands Readers Network and the Birmingham Book Festival.

Meet bestselling female novelists, take part in exciting book discussions and listen to author readings.

Kate Mosse – bestselling author and Honorary Director of the Orange Prize for Fiction will be joined by:

Joanne Harris

Sadie Jones

Charlotte Mendelson

Diana Evans

Clare Allan

Catherine O'Flynn

Joanna Kavenna

and authors shortlisted for the 2009 Orange Award for New Writers*

This is a unique opportunity to listen to outstanding writers of fiction talk about the experiences of being a writer in an afternoon dedicated to discussion, readings and book signings.

All attendees will take home a special books goody bag.

Tickets £5 or £4 concessions/£20 (6 tickets), to include interval refreshments, available from Birmingham Box Office: 0121 303 2323 or online at www.birminghamboxoffice.com

*shortlist to be announced on 7th April 2009

Orange Prize for Fiction 2009

The Orange Prize for Fiction, set up in 1996, celebrates excellence, originality and accessibility in women's writing and is awarded for the best novel of the year written by a woman.

Launched in 2005 in partnership with Arts Council England, the Orange Award for New Writers celebrates new female literary talent from throughout the world.