

TRA Breathing Places Booklists: August 2006

The Reading Agency has produced this booklist to support work on the BBC Breathing Places Campaign. The TRA Breathing Places Booklist is a combination of non-fiction, fiction and poetry and covers: getting information and knowledge about as well as getting active and reading for pleasure around nature, wildlife and the environment. All titles on the booklist have been checked against Nielsen Bookfind and give the author/editor, title, ISBN, format, price, publication date and distributor.

The TRA Breathing Places Booklist is split into the following categories:

1. BIRDS: .....	3
2. RIVERS, PONDS, SEASHORE: .....	3
3. INSECTS AND BUGS: .....	4
4. WILDLIFE: .....	4
5. TREES: .....	4
6. FLOWERS AND FUNGI: .....	5
7. GARDENS/GARDENING/ALLOTMENTS: .....	5
8. PARKS/WALKING/CYCLE TRAILS/WATERWAYS: .....	6
9. ECOLOGY/RECYCLING/ORGANIC/SELF-SUFFICIENCY: .....	6
10. NON-FICTION: (climate change/eco-theory/fair trade) .....	7
11. NARRATIVE NON-FICTION: .....	8
12. FICTION/SHORT STORIES/GRAPHIC NOVELS: .....	9
13. POETRY: INDIVIDUAL COLLECTIONS: .....	9
14. POETRY ANTHOLOGIES: .....	10
15. PARENT'S TITLES: (non-fiction) .....	10

Note on Series:

There are an immense number of nature and wildlife guides available from a range of publishers from the pocket-sized through to field and photographic guides. You may want to consider looking at some of the following websites and adding in specific titles that would be relevant to your own locality/region:

- www.collins.co.uk (Collins Wilde Guide Series, Gems, Pocket Guides, Field Guides, Nature Guides)
- www.field-studies-council.org (Illustrated Keys)
- www.newhollandpublishers.com (Field Guides)
- www.oup.co.uk (Oxford Natural History Pocket Guides)
- www.sustrans.org.uk (Cycle trails/maps)
- www.wildguides.co.uk (Photographic guides, profits support conservation charities)
- www.wildlifetrust.org.uk (The Wildlife Trusts Series)

Note on Fiction/Short Story/Graphic Novel Titles:

This selection of titles is neither exhaustive nor extensive, but suggests some titles you may want to include as part of your Breathing Places promotion. There is, obviously, a huge range of fiction titles that can be used to support Breathing Places - you may want to consider bringing in further fiction/short story/graphic novel titles that are of specific relevance to you locally and/or regionally.

Note on Parent's Titles:

The selection of parent's titles in the booklist are non-fiction with a focus on parent's/carer's getting information and getting active with their children around nature. Breathing Places will be the theme of the Summer Reading Challenge 2007 and will offer a wide range of book titles for children. For more information on the Summer Reading Challenge email:

lynne.taylor@readingagency.org.uk or anne.sarrag@readingagency.org.uk

Note on building in titles for emergent readers to link with Vital Link/BBC RaW:

Many fiction and non-fiction titles have a high readability level - 13 – 14 readability and above and do not fit other key criteria that make a book accessible for an emergent reader. If you are looking at working with emergent readers on Breathing Places it is worth checking the books you will be using against the fiction and non-fiction Vital Link Stock Selection Criteria (downloadable from www.vitalink.org.uk). On the Vital Link website you can also check the readability level of any given passage of text online. For appropriate fiction titles you may want to take a look at www.firstchoicebooks.org.uk (online database of titles that are appropriate for emergent readers). Non-fiction tends to be read in a different way (dipping in to get information) and usually has plenty of photographs or illustrations to aid understanding, it can be more accessible as a format than narrative non-fiction and fiction. Non-fiction also tends to tap into people's interests and passions and can be a good starting-point for engaging emergent readers with books and reading.

TRA Breathing Places Display Materials:

The TRA Breathing Places display materials are branded with the appropriate BBC logo and provide a visible reading element to support this major national campaign. The display materials signpost the library as the reading place for adults to get good reads on, get informed about, and to get active around nature and ecology. The Breathing Places design shows a tree with people reading in it and books on branches – a library in a tree. The display materials include: banners, A3 headers, A4 posters, A6 postcards and 4 x outsize bookmarks, shaped like plant name tags, with nature tips from the naturalist Nick Baker. The promotion is printed on elemental chlorine free, recycled/sustainable paper using green inks (biodegradable, vegetable oil based inks). Breathing Places display materials are available to order online from www.readingagency.org.uk. These materials complement free Breathing Places resources available to libraries from the BBC – noticeboard headers, posters and stickers.

Acknowledgments:

TRA would like to thank all those who have contributed to the development of the Breathing Places reading promotion 2006, and in particular:

Chris Baines; Jeremy Eastell; David Jamieson, BTCV; Graham Appleton, British Trust for Ornithology; Lili Fraser, The Scottish Poetry Library; Graham Blight, The Woodlands Trust; Carol Ackroyd, Devon Libraries; Mary Greenshields, Glasgow Libraries, Jane Mathieson, Time To Read North West library network; and Lesley Byers, Newquay Libraries.

Development of Future Breathing Places Booklists:

TRA will be producing supplementary booklists as the BBC Breathing Places campaign progresses. Please do let us know of any titles (non-fiction, fiction, poetry, short stories, graphic novels, titles for emergent readers/parents) that you are working with and which you think could go on a future list.
